

SCIENCE AT BETTY LAYWARD IS GOOD WHEN:

1. When children are curious, ask questions and work together to discover the answers.
2. The children take the lead and drive the learning forward.
3. When the children are finding out about their universe.
4. Teachers have a solid understanding of scientific concepts and can support children in their learning.
5. When the children are given hands on experiences that have a WOW factor and promote a sense of wonder and awe.
